Book Discussion: Finding Dorothy Scott: Letters of a WASP Pilot Fri Nov 13th 2:00 PM *PPCR
Books are available to check out at the front desk. Please sign up and wear a mask. "Finding Dorothy Scott: Letters of a WASP Pilot" by Sarah Byrn Rickman is about Dorothy Scott, who was a WASP. She was one of the 38 who died while serving. Her story would have been lost had her twin brother not donated her wartime letters home to the WASP Archives. Dorothy's extraordinary voice, as heard through her lively letters, tells of her initial decision to serve, and then of her training and service, first as a part of the WAFS and then the WASP. The letters offer a window into the mind of a young, patriotic, funny, and ambitious young woman who was determined to use her piloting skills to help the US war effort. The letters also offer archival records of the day-to-day barracks life for the first women to fly military aircraft.
